

Morning Starters: Summer 2 - Night Life

Word Challenge

The word ‘pint-sized’ is a hyphenated adjective.

Make a list of hyphenated adjectives from the words below:

wide	fingered	tree	hopping
long	dwelling	insect	hair
eating	tree	covered	eyed

Grammar Challenge

Click text to edit ✎

Write a simile about a tarsier’s remarkable eyes.

Example:

The tarsier’s enormous eyes were like crystal balls, revealing the secrets of the rainforest.

Did You Know?

The Philippine tarsier is a pint-sized predator that leaps between trees at night to hunt insects. Its enormous eyes are so large they can’t move in their sockets! Instead, it turns its head almost 360 degrees to follow its prey. Don’t let its tiny size fool you – this ancient hunter is a ruthless predator, perfectly equipped for life under the cover of darkness.

Where in the world is the Philippines? Click the

Credit: BBC One - Monkey Planet

Number Challenge

Fact: A Philippine tarsier can rotate its head through almost 360 degrees.

List the factor pairs of 360.

Example:

36 and 10 are a factor pair because  $36 \times 10 = 360$

Critical Thinking

If you could make one of your five senses (taste, sight, hearing, smell or touch) much stronger, which one would you choose and why?